President's Message: Ignacio De La Torre

We had another hugely successful meeting last month. In spite of being bumped from our typical meeting room and moving to a different location, it was standing room only. We had 120 attendees! Fortunately, we had plenty of food and refreshments, thanks to our members. We thank the members who made the effort to move to the meeting location. We know it wasn't easy, especially for those who took classes that morning.

This meeting was our first opportunity to participate in the CA Bonsai Society's (CBS) Visiting Artist program. Our presenter, Maliea Cheim, at times joined by CBS President Bob Pressler, provided a terrific presentation. We thank Maliea and Bob for making the trek from north LA to join us. Later this year, we will be joined by another CBS visiting artist. Read more about Maliea's presentation in Keith Carter's article.

We had some technical difficulties with the audio during the meeting which made it tough for our presenter and the audience. Wayne Lord, a member of our AV team, has resolved the issue. It's not easy to control things when you are not in your typical meeting space. For future meetings, we will do everything we can to remain in Room 101 at Casa Del Prado.

I asked some members of the club to participate on a Program Committee to evaluate and provide direction on programs for the year. As you may know, we are focused on offering presentations that provide skills-based instruction. Over the course of the year, we want members to learn a set of skills to help them to maintain their tree collection and enjoy this art form. One of our sessions this year, for example, will be a BYOT (bring your own tree), during which newer members can receive help and instruction from more advanced members.

We will have more opportunities to hear from guest presenters as well as club members. We hope to bring exciting and informative programs. As always, feel free to reach out to the Board with your thoughts.

If your address or contact number has changed, please drop me an email (udaykant@gmail.com) to update the membership roster.

March Meeting: by Ignacio De La Torre

We are pleased to announce our next presenter -- long-time club member John Voss. John will discuss heat-loving plants bougainvillea, ficus and boxwoods which make great bonsai in our region.

John will discuss the benefits of working with species that thrive in heat and how one goes about developing such plants. He will bring examples of each and demonstrate how to work on them.

John holds degrees in Soil Science and Ornamental Horticulture from Cal Poly Pomona. While there, he joined a bonsai club on campus. Determined to learn more, he began classes with Khan Komai who was based in Temple City. Mr. Komai's father-in-law was Frank Nagata, one of the founding members of the California Bonsai Society (CBS). John's second teacher was none other than John Naka, one of the United States' most influential bonsai masters and also a founding member of the CBS.

John previously owned a nursery that focused on houseplants while he concurrently maintained his private bonsai collection. John has served as SDBC secretary, newsletter editor, printer, and stamp-licker; kitchen manager; and show chairperson.

Upcoming Events

2023 Spring Show – April 29 & 30

At the February meeting, the sign-up sheets for all of the Spring Show activities were opened. Please check your availability and come to the March meeting ready to add your name to one, a few, or many of our fun volunteer and banquet opportunities. If you are new to the club, or a long-time member, there are many ways you can join the fun and help. If you have questions about any show volunteer position requirements, feel free to contact me or ask at the meeting.

Banquet, Raffle & Auction: Our annual banquet takes place after the show at approximately 5:30 on Saturday, April 29 (as soon as the volunteers finish set-up). This is a free event for members. The main dishes will be provided, and attendees are asked to bring a side dish or dessert to share. Please sign up for the banquet as soon as possible so that we have an accurate count for catering. We would also greatly appreciate donations of items for our member Raffle and Auction which take place at the end of our annual banquet. If you donate something, it will make space for something new in your collection.

Show & Demonstrations: To make the Spring Show a success, we need members to help us set-up on Thursday and Friday before the show, to assist in the showroom during show days Saturday and Sunday, to present demonstrations on show days, to provide refreshments for show day volunteers, to help with dismantling and clean-up of show materials at 4:00 on Sunday, April 30, and several other activities. Please take a look at the sign-up sheets at the next meeting and see if there is something you might enjoy.

Bonsai Displays & Sales: Members wishing to display or sell items at the show should begin preparing now. You can learn more about space and requirements at the March and April meetings.

Schedule: Please note the minor changes to the schedule this year.

- Showroom Set Up – Thursday, April 27, 4:00 p.m. – 7:00 p.m.
- Show Tree & Sale Item Check-In – Friday, April 28, 3:00 p.m.– 7:00 p.m.
- Saturday Pre-show Set-up – 8:00 a.m. – 9:30 a.m.
- Show & Sale – Saturday, April 29, 10:00 a.m.- 5:00 p.m.
- Banquet Set-up – Saturday, April 29, 4:00 p.m.– 5:00 p.m.
- Banquet, Raffle & Auction Saturday, April 29, 5:30 p.m. – 8:00 p.m.
- Show & Sale – Sunday, April 30, 10:00 a.m. – 4:00 p.m.
- Show & Sale Check-Out/Clean-Up Sunday, April 30, 4:00 p.m. – 7:00 p.m.

Safari Park Bonsai Pavilion Picnic

Coming Soon: Registration sheets for the Picnic on Sunday, May 21, will be available at an upcoming meeting. Due to space limitations, tickets and seating are limited, so sign up early.

Bonsai-A-Thon at the Huntington

More than 100 SDBC members attended the Bonsai-A-Thon, the fundraiser for the Golden State Bonsai Federation Collection at the Huntington (GSBFC), on the weekend of February 25-26. In spite of cool winter weather, we enjoyed time together at the styling demonstrations, the sale and the exciting auction and raffle. The club and several members graciously donated items for the drawings and auctions. We also brought back some nice materials. It was an amazing experience for new and seasoned members.

Bonsai Pavilion at Safari Park: by Mark Edgar

It should be getting warmer, but Thursday morning February 16, 2023, it was 28° at the Safari Park Bonsai Pavilion. John Jackson, Dennis Wagner, Cathy Edgar, and I had the very chilly duty to host a Bonsai Pavilion tour for all Park volunteers. The Safari Park Volunteer Office brought donuts (blueberry donuts were good!) and we supplied hot water, coffee, and tea on a table in the bonsai display area. John used the hot water container to warm his hands. A couple dozen brave volunteers attended and were in awe of the garden and bonsai. Lots of compliments!

We received a lovely donation from Nancy Reisman. Nancy is a long-time exhibitor of Saikei at the Del Mar Fair. Nancy has won many awards from the fair for her exhibits. The Safari Park Bonsai Pavilion is lucky to have five of these Saikei as well as several trees that could be used to make a saikei. An elm and a boxwood saikei are pictured.

In February we had volunteers that donated 341 hours to the Bonsai Pavilion. Year to date (Jan and Feb) there were 35 different volunteers. The February volunteers included Nate Chongsiriwatana, Julia Chow, Brenda Crann, Sally and Steve Dischinger, Cathy and Mark Edgar, Chuck Fasilis, Sonya Holmquist, John Jackson, Jaya Kaelberer, Jim Kirchmer, Carla Marasco, Jeanne and Michael McKinney, Carol Ann McManus, Charlie Mosse, Camille Newton, Janet, and Ron Palmer, Uday Udaykant, Cindy Pecile, Wendy Pollock, Clare, and Ron Roberts, 'lyn Stevenson, Yoichiro Seumori (Mori), Dennis Wagner and Ken Zito.

Dennis Wagner is doing some needle plucking on the big Japanese Black Pine bonsai. It is exacting work –note the extended pinky lyn Stevenson is trimming and wiring the foemina forest she donated to the Pavilion. It is a never-ending battle to keep the huge forest trimmed, but 'lyn is persistent.

Cindy Pecile is working on a raft style bonsai which is very challenging to trim. Cindy is always very cheerful while working on bonsai Jaya Kaelberer and Julia Chow are trimming the elm forest donated by Melba Tucker who also has a forest at the National Arboretum in Washington D. C.

Lastly, long-time volunteer Yoichiro Seumori (Mori) returned to the Bonsai Pavilion after a long absence. Mori has a new ID, a new name badge, a new coat, and a new shirt. He is one of the best equipped volunteers we have. We are glad to have him back. Mori was famous for raking patterns in the large dirt area at the Pavilion before it was landscaped.

Japanese Friendship Garden: by Neil Auwarter

Thanks to our February volunteers, Barbara French-Lee, Aaron Mathankeri, Charlie Mosse, and Ron Roberts.

New foliage is popping on our deciduous trees. One, the Hisayasu pomegranate, received a new home in a blue rectangular pot found in the bowels of our shed. The pot had a large chip, which was repaired with Oatey “Fix it Stick” two-part epoxy. The patch was then colored with black and blue Sharpies to match the glaze; then a liquid polyurethane was applied to give the patch a glaze-like sheen. Pictured are the steps of the repair and the pomegranate in its new pot. Rejoice—spring is almost here!

Education: by Bill Graham, VP

We have continued to have cool and somewhat wet weather. In my neck of the woods, I have had frost and ice several times! Usually this brings out a great flush for my flowering deciduous trees, and so far, this is the case. It has also been windy. This will pull the moisture out of your trees faster than you would think. Pay attention to your watering even with the rain!

Beginning Class: -Buxus sempervirens – Common Boxwood –Carla Marasco

January 8 – February 12 – March 12

In the third and final session of the Beginners Class you will finalize your styling and learn how to replot your trees into bonsai soil and a bonsai pot. SOLD OUT!

Beginning Class: - Olea europea – Olives – Bob Hale

April 16 – June 18 – July 9

We have some nice olives with small leaves. These will be the start of very nice bonsai.

Due to my inability to be at the February Meeting, the April/June/July Beginners Class will go on sale at the MARCH MEETING. Due to the overwhelming demand, I will be holding a drawing at the March Meeting to get a slot in the class. You will need to be present to enter.

Intermediate Workshop:

March – Japanese Black Pines – Fred Miyahara

Our own Master of the Japanese Black Pine, Fred Miyahara, will once again lead a workshop and will bring his many years of experience and training to help guide you to your own future masterpiece. This class is limited to 6 people. The trees have very nice bases and lots of potential. SOLD OUT!

April – Urban Yamadori Buxus sp. Common Boxwood – Christina Far

We have some nice Urban Yamadori common boxwoods. These trees have been out of the ground since 2018, are very well established and ready for styling. They have nice trunks and a lot of potential. They will go on sale at the MARCH MEETING. The cost will be $45.00.

May – No Class – Meeting at the Safari Park.

New members are always excited about taking the beginners classes, and several have asked to be put on a waiting list for the next class. Please note that sign-up sheets for all classes and workshops are first available at the Bonsai Club meeting TWO months before the classes/workshops are held unless otherwise specified. We do not start a waiting list until after the sign-up sheet has been put out at the meeting and filled.

A reminder that all beginning classes, workshops and skills classes are taught from 8:30 am to 10:15 am on club meeting days at Balboa Park unless otherwise specified. Also, don't forget to bring any trees that you would like some help or advice on from our excellent bonsai masters at the club. Help is located in the back of Room 101 to the right of the stage.

If you have any ideas that can improve our programs or have skills that you would like to share, please contact me at wfgraham3rd@gmail.com.

Maliea Chiem examines a tree closely before starting her design work

For Maliea Chiem, bonsai is more than just a hobby. “It’s a lifestyle, a way of being,” explained the Maine resident, who has studied with bonsai masters in the U.S. and Italy, as she began her presentation at the Feb. 12 SDBC meeting.

Maliea’s appearance was coordinated through the California Bonsai Society’s Visiting Artist Program. She was accompanied by CBS President Bob Pressler, who provided his own expert assistance during the presentation.

Maliea confessed that she’s still developing her own style of bonsai design, but first and foremost, she stressed, “I want to make it fun and to get excited about the tree.” A person tries to make their weaknesses into strengths, she said, “and you want to think of trees that way.”

She said she begins her evaluations by scraping as much dirt as possible away from the base of the tree, which enables her to see more of the trunk line. Then she looks for additional inspiration by studying the movement of a tree, which includes examining it from all sides because “a change of angles can do everything.”

After scrutinizing the demonstration juniper provided by Bob from his recently relocated nursery in Castaic, Maliea then cleaned the branches to get a better view of the tree’s lines. “If you see the lines, you can make the best design choices,” she said. Removing unneeded foliage before wiring opens the tree up visually. “You want your eyes to ride the trunk line. If a branch inhibits that view, you know it doesn’t work and you can remove any growth that doesn’t enhance the design.” Bob echoed that thought by suggesting that eliminating branches you know you don’t need is a good way to start the design process.

Next, she advised, look for the apex, or at least identify growth that can be wired to create an apex. To help envision the demonstration juniper’s potential design, Maliea draped paper towels over some of the branches see what it would look like without them. In the end she wound up eliminating two large lower branches to make a literati, or bunjin, style.

“Sometimes it’s fun not to have a plan, to let the design happen organically” as you work on the tree, she said.

Following the presentation, the juniper was put up for auction. The winning bid of $300 was submitted by Camille Newton.
