Message From the President

This is a very busy time of the year for the bonsai club. We all had a lot of repotting to do as well as preparing for the Spring Show, followed immediately by the club picnic at the Wild Animal Park. I would like to thank Cary Sullivan and John Voss for chairing the Spring Show. They did a wonderful job. Barbara French-Lee and her crew did a great job with the plant sale (one of the biggest jobs of the show). Joan Holiday did a great job on the reception dinner and Maude did a wonderful job with her table decorations. ICE catering provided a wonderful meal to all 125 of us. The food was delicious and I know we all enjoyed the music Joan arranged for us. Thanks to Claude and the bar crew as well as Abe for getting beverages. Thanks to Sue Wagner for being so thoughtful and bringing one of her beautiful carved fruit. Maria, thank you so much for taking over the club treasurer and doing a wonderful job at the show in addition to auditing all the club's books. Tara Cobbs did a wonderful job as past treasurer and we thank her so much for all her time with the club.

We had approximately 3,297 people come to see our wonderful show. The club made approximately $1,913 and the fish bowl made another $560. We added $538 to the Frank Schrosk memorial education fund and many thanks to Fred for storing all the pots and bringing them to the club several times. The auction was a great success with all the donations from our club members and our friends from Orange County and Los Angeles. Thank you to Larry and Nina Ragle for their donation to the SDBC-WAP New Pavilion project. Without our wonderful members and friends who donate so much time and effort the show would not be possible. I give a heartfelt thank you to everyone who worked so hard at the Spring Show. It was wonderful to have founding member Ko Tsushima in the tokanoma and to see our long time member Aldo Pia at the show.

We are looking for someone to chair the Fall Show. There is always a lot of help available and we are looking for someone to take over the Public Relations responsibilities for the club. If you are interested please see me.

The SDBC meeting and picnic was very successful and the weather was beautiful. 'lyn did a wonderful job coordinating all of the details for our meeting at the park. She does a lot of "behind the scenes" tedious work to get this all accomplished, and I appreciate her hard work. As we all saw, a lot of work has been going on at the new pavilion. The trees are looking great in the old pavilion and many thanks to everyone who has worked so hard this past year. We are very lucky to have a great partnership with all the people at the Wild Animal Park. It was nice that our friends from San Pu Kai could join us for a beautiful day. We made approximately $1,600 for the club and the new pavilion project. We made about $400 more than last year. Thanks so much for the generous donation of items. I know all the new members had a wonderful time. Thanks to Maria and Cary for keeping track of all the proceeds.

I want to take this time to thank all of you who come to the San Pu Kai Show at the Flower Fields in Carlsbad. Many members even stayed and worked. We had over 6,000 visitors and handed out lots of flyers for both clubs and the SDBC-WAP New Pavilion. Thanks to Marty and Ruth Mann for finding San Pu Kai this wonderful location. Thank you Joanie Berkwitz, Cary Valentine, John Voss, Maria Barbosa and the rest of the team for a wonderful show and plant sale. We all look forward to their show next year.

Once again we are pleased to have Roy Nagatoshi come to our June meeting. We will be in room 103. Maria has planned a trip for bonsai shopping and the first stop is Roy's nursery. Please do not miss this chance to shop for great material.

Careful with the warm weather, keep watering, and happy growing.

Steve Valentine

June Program

On April program Bob Hilvers GSBF President did a wonderful demonstration. We all enjoyed his demonstration; it was very educational and entertaining program. We all thank Bob for coming to our club from Visalia.

For our June program, we invited bonsai master Roy Nagatoshi. He became familiar with the art of bonsai in 1959 and his primary teacher was his father Shigeru. His father was one of pioneers in the art of bonsai in US and he also took classes with bonsai master John Naka.

Roy is the owner of Fuji Bonsai Nursery which was established in 1965 by his father. Roy is a true bonsai artist. He has a love and passion for the art of bonsai, which he has used to create many masterpieces.

He really did promote the art of bonsai in the US including his bonsai tree which was shown in the Karate Kid III movie.

Roy is very active in the bonsai society and was president of California Bonsai Society for eight years. He chaired several conventions, conducted many demonstrations as well as workshops. Teaching bonsai is his major interest in his life.

Roy Nagatoshi

We are honored to have Roy Nagatoshi as our guest this month and we all welcome Roy to our club.

San Diego Bonsai Club Pavilions at the Wild Animal Park

The April 3rd and 4th Garden Societies Celebration at the Wild Animal Park once again was an opportunity for us to bring a few bonsai down into Nairobi Village for viewing by the many WAP visitors. We did some impromptu trimming and wiring and answered many questions from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. each day. A few of us also felt our chairs move with the Easter earthquake! Many thanks to Susan Baker, Joyce Goldman, Joan Holliday, Kathy Heaney, Jim & Susan Kirchmer, Harlan & Mary Ann Price, 'lyn Stevenson, Charlie Tamm, Cary & Steve Valentine, Don Webb, and Dave Woodall for being generous with their time, their bonsai talent, and their great public relations on that busy weekend.

In the construction area, we have been putting in many extra hours on Saturdays as well as during the week working along with the talented crews from the WAP with their heavy equipment. Tasks include moving and placing boulders, outlining and trenching the river stream areas, and uncovering more tree roots than we knew existed. John Jackson also headed up the shed project: the "kit" was purchased and the old shed was demolished and removed. The new shed was erected on the former foundation. It will be a great storage area for many years to come. Over 100 feet of fencing is now in place on the upper side of the new pavilion area—Dennis and Dave made quite a fence team! Prior to the May meeting, picnic, and auction, many members helped clear brush, fill holes, and put the construction site in condition for our May tour. Steve later arranged for the delivery of three more truckloads of granite boulders and rocks to incorporate into the water feature and garden. John Jackson has been at the site almost daily during this past month.

Curator Steve headed a group who built the last three display tables for our current Pavilion bonsai collection and cleaned the show area for the May meeting tour. There was quite a bit of volunteering up and down within the two pavilion areas, so no one needs to attend any extra fitness club workouts! Later, Steve directed the repotting of the large ficus nerifola that was donated by Bruce and YaekoHisayasu a few months ago. It is now beautifully potted into a large oval pot. Another new gift from Gene Wiese and Angelo Vitale is a beautiful group planting of ficus that Gene started from cuttings over twelve years ago. A generous donation indeed!

Many, many thanks to all our enthusiastic April and May volunteers: Susan Baker, Maria Barbosa, Sally Bencargey, Tyler Doren, Maria & Tina Flores, Joyce Goldman, Kathy Heaney, John Jackson, Jim & Susan Kirchmer, Ray Lish, Jon & Terri Petrescu, Harlan & Mary Ann Price, 'lyn Stevenson, Charlie Tamm, Cary & Steve Valentine, Forrest & Michelle Vess, John Voss, Dennis Wagner, & Dave Woodall. Delicious fruits, cookies, and beverages were welcomed and appreciated too! Thanks to all the volunteers and donors!

As we work toward our May, 2011 opening for the new Pavilion, we are in close contact with the WAP staff and crew who are helping extensively with their expertise. Also, many thanks also to Erica Guglielmetti in the Horticultural Office for arranging our facilities in the Kapanda Pavilion, tickets, and parking for the May meeting there.

The Zoological Society is continuing to refine their volunteer program. Many of our bonsai volunteers have already completed their orientation. As a volunteer, you receive a red monogrammed shirts and a photo ID. If you are ready to join in the fun and practice your bonsai and garden skills, let me know so you may be added to our wonderful group! Communication with the Zoological Society is best done via e-mail.

Beginners Class

Pics by Mario Condit & Cary Valentine

Intermediate Class

Since we did not have a class in May, due to the Picnic, the beginners need to remember to bring their trees, tools, and imagination to the beginners class on June 13th.

We will be wiring and shaping our trees, so please take some time to look through your book, and you can also look on the internet for ideas. Issues of Golden Statements are available as a pdf online, and might give you inspiration for the shape that you would like to apply to your beginners tree. Class begins at 9 am, don't be late!

We will have some bougainvillea available for a workshop. This is nice nursery stock with small flowers, leaves, and tight internodes. We will have a handout on bougainvillea care as well as a discussion of how to treat bougies. In addition, the handout will show how to bring about flowering and which fertilizers are suitable for bougies. Please bring your tools and join our class (there is a small fee) or watch and learn!

San Diego Bonsai Bonsai Ideas Marty Mann #102

June is a treacherous time for the tender new leaves of Maples, Liquid Ambers, Birch, Beech and even Elms. Hot weather and blowing winds quickly dry these leaves and turn the edges brown. Avoid direct, strong sunlight. Avoid deep shade that encourages spindly and weak branches. Semi-anything is best. Keep trimming new shoots back to two or three sets of leaves. Balance the density of the tree. Do selective trimming in all areas, from the apex to the lower branches.

Evergreens and conifers must be attended to in the early summer season. Continue to pinch (fingers are still the best tool) back on growing tips of evergreens. Young, fast growing pines may still be de-candled. Spread this activity out over several days. Start low on the tree and work up to its apex.

This is a terrific growing period. Spring rains may have created good health but cause excessive growth. Particularly, deciduous trees have leafed out with large healthy foliage. Late June and into early July is the time to consider defoliation. The trees must be healthy and well fed.

Trimming a deciduous bonsai accomplishes leaf size reduction. This happens when a second crop of leaves comes in smaller. The removal of large leaves is necessary to maintain a neat appearance and encourage development of new auxiliary buds. It is best to leaf prune late in June or early in July.

The technique that makes defoliating effective is quite complex. In a normal plant growing cycle, a plant that is living in a healthy light environment creates new stems that are growing straight up, where the most light falls. This phenomenon is called apical dominance, meaning the plant is dominated by the bud at its very top. If nature, or the bonsaiist, removes this bud, a message is conveyed to the plant. Growth in that direction is discouraged. A plant that has been pinched back will therefore sprout new branches up and down the older parts of the stem. When the leader is removed, side branches appear. Growing tips, at the apex of a branch, produce a hormone called AUXIN. Removing them has the effect of keeping new buds from growing. There is, however, another hormone group called KININS that conflict with AUXIN essentially spurs dormant side buds to grow. This lateral growth develops twiggyness and the intricate quality of design that makes a mature bonsai compact and retain smaller leaves.

Keep all trees evenly exposed to the warming rays of sunshine and stronger light. Develop a habit of turning each tree on the bench frequently. Be particularly watchful of trees that are backed by a light wall or fence. Strong light reflection can induce excess back growth or, in certain conditions, will burn young growth due to reflected heat. Consider the light conditions of each tree. Keeping material in a sheltered or shaded area produces lanky and weak growth. Protect the deciduous trees from burning if the weather becomes unusually warm. Conversely, conifers and junipers thrive in a well-lighted area and produce firmer, greener foliage. Compensate for the benefits of good light condition by adjusting the watering schedules.

Taking care also means protection. As the weather improves, the growth of the undesirable population of aphids, green flies, spider mites, white flies and scale is encouraged. If Junipers appear to be yellowing or looking sickly, suspect spider mites. In Pines, if there is evidence of a white woolly substance in the interior of the tree, suspect borers. Insects suck plant juices and cause considerable damage. Mites are quite small and can be easily discovered by shaking a branch over a white surface and watching the tiny red spots move. Use a few drops of Volck oil in your insecticide sprays to improve effectiveness. Be attentive to regular application of insecticides and miticides. Apply Malathion, Sevin, Isotox for insects.

Warm weather increases the productivity of various fungus infections. Use Triazicide, Captan, or other general-purpose fungicides to avoid damage from mildew and leaf spot. A drop or two of a mild soap solution or other wetting agents in the formula improves effectiveness. Enjoy the summer.

Mojave Dig with Harry Hirao

In April, Harry Hirao took a team out to the Mojave desert to dig up junipers; Terri and Jon Petrescu, Sue and Dennis Wagner, Ken Bross, and Richard Anderson. Below is an overview of the lay of the land; hilly, unpaved roads, lots of brush, and wind generators.

They stayed overnight and left early Sunday, having supper and breakfast at Denny's- Harry's favorite place in the desert. Harry is amazing. He hiked up and down the steeply inclined hills and around the brush looking for trees. He certainly loves to look for trees that are healthy and have lot of potential.

Bus Trip June 26th

We have a choice bus trip planned for Saturday, June 26, 2010. Many of you have expressed an interest in a good ole fashioned "Browse & Shop" excursion. So, following your requests, we are doing a day-trip to two unique and stocked-full nurseries in the Los Angeles valley area.

Our first stop will be at Roy Nagatoshi's acres of great plant material, Fuji Bonsai Nursery in Sylmar. We will then break for lunch and, afterwards, continue our shopping spree at Kimura Bonsai Nursery. Both nurseries are full-service bonsai nurseries-- for everything you need for creating bonsai and for maintenance (pre-bonsai material, premium specimen bonsai, tools, pots, wire, soil, etc.).

The bus will leave Balboa Park (the lower parking lot at Presidents Way) at 8:00 a.m., and pick up at the Shell station on Carlsbad Village Drive (east of the freeway) at 8:30 a.m. Remember to pack your own sack lunch and bring a hat. The club will provide an ice chest of water. And, of course, bring those checks, cash and credit cards for all those wonderful purchases. Cost is $40 per person. You will need to pay in advance, so please call or see me at the June meeting to reserve your bus seat.

Did You Know???

Did you know that the new construction site for the Bonsai Pavilion at the Wild Animal Park is over 12,000 square feet? Actually it is 12,720 square feet not counting the hillside above the water fall. It is 264 feet long from the front road entrance to the back work area AND IT IS 48 feet wide to the waterfall area. We need lots of dedicated bonsai members to help finish the construction and to continue the up keep for all to enjoy and continue to learn and practice.

Special Help Needed!!!

John Jackson and assistants have completed the construction of the new storage shed in the construction area of the new pavilion site.
